

Smart Guns

Biometric: A fingerprint scanner is attached to the grip.

According to Smart Tech, "The scanner checks the print against its internal database, authenticating the user within a fraction of a second" (Smart Tech).

RFID: A token (can be a watch or ring) is a small key that stores data.

The proximity token emits radio waves that are detected by the RFID reader on the gun.